

Hopkinsville Kentuckian.

VOL. XXV.

HOPKINSVILLE, KENTUCKY, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 18, 1903.

NO. 74.

Of Special Interest

To the Economically Inclined.

We have gone through our Clothing stock and selected out of it every Coat and Vest to which there are no pants to match, and have marked prices on them for a Week's Special Sale, Begining Monday, Sept. 14.

The sizes run from 14 years to 19 years in Youths', and 34 to 42 in men's and represent every grade material from $7.50 good substantial Cheviot to $20 finest Imported Worsted.

We Offer Choice of the Whole Bunch for

$5.00 for Coat and Vest, $1.50 to $3.50 for the Balance.

It's less than Half Price and they'll go like a house afire. If you want to buy the best bargain you ever bought be on hand early Monday morning. See large center window for samples.

J. H. ANDERSON & CO.

Prices Go Still Lower.

One $85 Phaeton for 65.00

Stylish and Up-to-Date in Every Particular.

One Steel Tire
Runabout, worth $45,
For $33.00.

One Rubber Tire Stick Seat
Driving Wagon, worth $60,
For $43.50.

If you want a buggy of any kind get our prices, they are being sold at prices below anything ever heard of in this county.

Harness of all kinds, Draft Collars, Hames, Chains, Pads, Bridles, &c., Cheaper than ever. Call and see us, we will save you money.

F. A. YOST & CO.
207 South Main St.

NEW ATTRACTIONS

For the State Fair to be Held
September 21-26.

Fourteen Shows of the Ferari Carnival Company Engaged at Great Expense.

At great expense the officers of the State Fair Association have engaged the fourteen shows of the Ferari Carnival Company for the big fair which will be held in Owensboro next week. This attraction is one of the largest that has ever been engaged for a fair in any but the large cities and costs a large sum of money. The officers of the fair, however, are not sparing any expense to make this the best fair that has ever been given in Kentucky and in spite of the cost engaged the Ferari company. This company is acknowledged to be the leading attraction of its kind in the country, carrying 250 people and never showing in small cities.

The engagement of the carnival company means that the state fair this year is to have many more attractions than ever before and that it will be run on a much more elaborate scale. Those interested in the fair are confident that the addition of the Ferari shows will be a big drawing card and they are jubilant over the engagement of it. The company is now showing in Louisville in connection with the carnival of the Central Labor Union and has attracted large crowds each day. They have given universal satisfaction and it is conceded to be the best carnival company ever seen in Louisville.

The attractions of the company number fourteen besides the free shows, which are five in number. The most famous of the shows is the loop-the-loop, which is done by Diavolo on a bicycle. It is one of the most daring performances ever attempted by any man. Another big feature is the wild animal show, exhibiting trained lions and other wild animals. Over 40 lions are carried by this show and some of them are the finest specimens in captivity. Speedy does a high dive from a ladder 118 feet high into a shallow tank of water; four men ride bicycles inside a bowl-shaped track which is lifted four feet off the floor, so that it has no bottom; a man rides a bicycle down a long flight of steps and there are many other superior attractions that will draw immense crowds to the big fair. One fare for the round trip on all railroads.

RESIDENCE DESTROYED.

Well Known Farmer's Heavy Loss By Fire.

Mr. I. M. Fort's residence, situated a few miles South of Guthrie, was destroyed by fire Tuesday morning. The flames were caused by sparks from the kitchen fire. Nearly all the furniture was saved, but a lot of silverware, clothing, etc., burned. The building was a two-story frame. Mr. Fort was absent, his wife and a servant girl being the only persons on the place.

The loss is about $1,200. There was no insurance.

T. C. BRIDGE

Contract Awarded to W. J. Oliver & Co.

The Tennessee Central Railroad Company has awarded the contract for building a bridge over Little river, between Phelps farm and Mercer's Park, to W. J. Oliver & Co. The same contractors have the stone work at the overhead crossings on the Canton Cox Mill and Clarksville pikes. They will begin on the bridge as soon as they finish the other work.

Mrs. W. F. Randle has gone to Lavergne, Tenn., to visit relatives.

BANKERS CONVENE

And Hold Interesting Session of State Association.

Brilliant Banquet at Hotel Latham Wednesday Night—
President's Address.

The Bankers Association of Kentucky met Wednesday in its eleventh annual session in the parlors of Hotel Latham.

The session opened with an invocation by Rev. W. L. Nourse. Prof. H. Clay Smith delivered the address of welcome, which was happily responded to by Mr. H. G. Witt, of Henderson.

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS.

President E. B. Long delivered his annual address which was, in part, as follows:

"Gentlemen of the Kentucky Bankers' Association:

"It affords me great pleasure to welcome you here. The people of Hopkinsville are delighted to see you and will be glad to show you genuine hospitality. They are ready to give you the best they have in the pantry, and if there is anything you want and no not see, just ask for it."

"I am glad to say that at the present time the bankers of Kentucky are, in accord with the general surroundings, in a prosperous condition.

"In surveying the present outlook, as it presents itself to the enquiring mind, we notice pre-eminently the marked tendency to consolidation in all branches of commerce and interests.  Only by consolidation of interests can conditions be reached, which will enable the trader to live, and to prosper to a certain extent. There is no business in which these axioms are more true than in the banking business.

"The pernicious principle of paying interest on deposits has grown to a ruinous extent; on the other hand charges for services, rendered by banks to the public, have been almost eliminated, and rates of discount have been greatly lowered. Notwithstanding our boasted progress, antiquated methods of business, which could be improved upon without detriment to any body, are still adhered to, to the cost of the bankers.

"Unfair laws, engrained upon the statutes of the state, giving undue preference to the supply-men's claims over bank loans, should in my opinion receive the attention of this association with a view to the proper adjustment by appeal on the part of the legislature."

The secretary, Mr. Isham Bridges, of Louisville, read his report, showing a membership of 187.

The treasurer, Mr. E. W. Hayes, submitted his report, showing a balance of $255,72 in the treasury.

The chairman of the executive committee also submitted an interesting report, urging the proposed amendment to section 181 of the state constitution.

In the afternoon a brief session was held, at which Mr. John G. Winn, of Mt. Sterling, led a discussion on "Speculation and the Money Market."

Mr. R. E. Hughes, secretary of the Kentucky Exhibit Association, is on hand, putting in some good licks for the World's Fair. He wants the body to meet in St. Louis next year.

THE BANQUET.

Wednesday night the banquet at Hotel Latham was held after a concert in the lobby, lasting until ten o'clock. The music was by Charlie's Band, of Nashville. Guests were seated for about 125, and the guests were seated at three long tables running the length of the dining room. Capt. Whitlow was sick in bed, but his son, Browne Whitlow, looked after the service with a skill and care far beyond his years. The toasting master, Mr. Thos. C. Underwood, sat at the west end of the middle table, at the

NEW GOODS!

Mercerized Silk Vesting.

The Newest Fall Waistings in all the New Shades. Be Sure and See Them.

New Dress Goods!
New Percales!

Big Line Carpets, Mattings, Linoleums and Oil Cloths.

Cut Prices on all Summer Goods.

T. M. Jones.

door. He presided with a grace and ease that always characterizes him on such occasions and gave each speaker a pleasant send-off. There were nine responses to toasts, all short, and the speeches were of a kind to entertain rather than to instruct. They were all happy and appropriate and held the crowd until about 1:30 a. m. The speakers were as follows:

Our Guests ... Mr. J. W. Downer Our Hosts ... Mr. S. N. Leonard Our City ... Mayor Jouett Hyatt Other People's Money ...

... Mr. Logan C. Murray Tales and theeller ...

... Mr. John R. Wylie Bankers and Others ...

... Mr. Chas. M. Meacham Getting Rich Quick ... Mr. B. G. Witt

To Trust or Not to Trust ...

... Mr. George C. Long On the Ground Floor ...

... Mr. John G. Winn The visitors attending the meeting were as follows:

B. G. Witt, Henderson.

W. P. Paxton, Paducah.

J. C. Utterback, Paducah.

Jas. S. Escott, Louisville.

G. B. Likens, Hartfield.

Oho Fowler, Kuttawa.

Jno. T. Moore, Hartford.

H. H. Kemper, Irvineton.

B. V. Veich, Louisville.

S. H. Dees, Murray.

J. L. Gaugh, Wilmore.

W. G. Simpson, Albany.

Sam'l Cassadley, Louisville.

J. M. Johnson, Lawrenceburg.

O. D. Thomas, Lebanon.

Jno. G. Winn, Mt. Sterling.

Chas. E. Dallam, Henderson.

W. M. Wright, Morganfield.

J. S. Davis, Columbus.

S. D. Caldwell, Cave City.

R. T. Smith, Horse Cave.

W. S. Thomas, Hawesville.

G. A. Thompson, Hickman.

F. T. Gunther, Ovensboro.

W. A. Gest, Columbus.

B. M. Brooks, Slaughtersville.

Ben Wile, Owensesboro.

C. R. Bassett, Letchfield.

G. A. Williams, Owensesboro.

J. M. Wagener, Morganfield.

Jno. W. Carthy, Chicago, Ill.

Willis S. Muller, Louisville.

A. M. Larkin, Newport.

W. M. Pearson, Sturgis.

R. E. Hughes, Louisville.

J. H. Covington, Franklin.

W. T. Holly, Cincinnati.

Marvin Lewis, Louisville.

Clarence B. Walker, Louisville.

J. W. Cross, Pembroke.

J. S. Milliken, Trenton.

C. H. Haeslet, Clinton.

Jno. R. Wylie, Princeton.

J. A. Stegar, Princeton.

E. R. Street, Cadiz.

Geo. P. Street, Elkinton.

D. L. Grinter, Cadiz.

P. D. Trigg, Glasgow.

S. N. Leonard, Eddyville.

Geo. C. Thompson, Paducah.

O. E. Layne, Adams, Tenn.

W. R. Rice, Davierville.

YESTERDAY'S SESSION.

At the closing session yesterday morning two interesting papers were read. One was by Mr. Logan

C. Murray, of Louisville, on "The Aldrich Bill."

The other by Mr. Ira L. Smith, of Hopkinsville, on "Benevolence of Bankers."

The bankers from all sections of the state were called upon for reports and their reports were of uniformly favorable conditions, except a tightness of money matters in some localities.

The election of officers resulted in the re-election of Mr. E. B. Long as President and Mr. Isham Bridges, of Louisville, Secretary.

The following Vice Presidents were elected by Princeton:

J. R. Wylie, Princeton.

J. E. McPherson, Hopkinsville.

J. M. Covington, Franklin.

Jno. T. Moore, Hartfield.

J. S. Escort, Louisville.

J. R. Downing, Georgetown.

J. S. Gaugh, Wilmore.

W. C. Richardson, Ashland.

J. G. Winn, Mt. Sterling.

J. M. Simpson, Albany.

The association was formally invited to meet next year in Ashland.

Mr. B. T. Smith, of Horse Cave, offered a resolution thanking the bankers and people of Hopkinsville for their entertainment, which was passed unanimously.

Mr. Casseday, of Louisville, offered an appropriate resolution expressing regret upon the death of Hon. V. Boreing, a member of the association, at London, which was passed.

The association adjourned at noon.

RECEIPTS AND SALES

Small This Week—Shipments Going Out Steadily.

The sales of tobacco this week were small and were made up chiefly of the lower grades, which sold for the ruling prices. The shipments are going out steadily, but are not so large as those of a month ago. Receipts for the week were also small. Receipts for the year amount to 11,335 hogsheads, and sales for the year, 9,385 hogsheads.

The crop this year is one of the best that has been raised for several years. It is fine in quality and plentiful.

The loose tobacco market will open in a few weeks.

MEETING CLOSES.

There Will Be Twenty-Nine Additions to the Church.

The protracted meeting at Sinking Fork, conducted by Elder J. W. Gant, assisted by Elder J. F. Story, of Madisonville, has closed. The meeting resulted in twenty-nine additions to the church.

Rites for K. N. G.

The War Department has decided to issue 2,500 new Krag-Jorgenson rifles to the Kentucky National Guard.

DANIEL WEBSTER'S GIN

Humility to Water Caused Amusing Incident in the Senate.

A former member of congress from Connecticut related to me a very amusing incident he witnessed on his first visit to congress in 1850, says a writer in the Denver Republican. He had a position in the lobby, just over the seat of Mr. Webster, who was to make his great speech on the compromise question, but before he began his speech a page put upon his desk a pitcher and a timber, from which he refreshed himself several times in the course of the long speech he made and at its conclusion Isaac P. Walker, democratic senator from Wisconsin, arose to reply, and as his seat was next to Mr. Webster he reached over, and pouring out a glass of water, as he supposed, drank it and in a few moments such a spluttering and gasping as followed disclosed the fact that the Massachusetts senator had been inspired in his greatest effort by Byron's source of inspiration which followed, in that Mr. Webster joined most heartily, and the confusion and loss of breath entailed on Mr. Walker, caused him to yield the floor to some one else.

Silas Wright was another of those statesmen who needed stimulant and found it before beginning an important speech in the cloakroom, where a supply could always be obtained in those days. I cannot recall any such un-easy exhibition as was witnessed at the close of the last congress on the floor of the senate. The habit was convivial, not disgusting, as more recent times have witnessed.

The drinking was, I think, much heavier than now, but it was not indulged in openly. The dinners were in some cases the medium of heavy drinking, but a debauch was rare. In those early days the members and senators herded together in the various boarding houses with which Washington abounded. They formed "messes" of whigs in one house and democrats in another, and they seldom mixed, for these "messes" political action was discussed in the most unreserved manner. Mr. Webster, Col. Benton and a few others then kept house and had their families resident there, but in the majority of instances these bachelors huddled

TRYING ON SHOES.

I Won't Injure Her Any and It May Help You Some.

Praise your wife, man, for pity's sake, praise your wife when she deserves it! It won't injure her any, says Anna Edwards, United Presbyterian, though it may frighten her from its strange news. If you wish to make her happy, give her a loving word occasionally. If she takes pains to make you something pretty, don't take it with only,

"Yes, it is very pretty. Won't you lend me my paper?"

It will take you only a moment's time to kiss her and tell her she is the best wife in town. You will find it to be a paying investment—one which will yield you a large return in increased care and willing labor for your comfort. Loving praise will lightlen her wonderfully, and should freely bestowed.

I called on a friend one day and found her up to her eyes in work. "Oh, dear," she said, "this is one of my bad days; everything goes wrong, and I haven't got a thing done!"

"Let me help you," I said.

"No, no," she replied, gently pushing me into the sitting-room. "I'm going to leave everything and rest awhile; but I must just wipe up this spot first."

Just as she stooped to do it, her husband came in; he didn't see me, but went straight to his wife. One quick lift, and he placed her on her feet, and, taking the cloth from her hand, wiped up the spot himself.

"There, busy-bee," said, "you have done enough to day. You tired yourself all out getting my favorite dinner. Now, I think I'll leave the rest till to morrow." I spoke to him then, and he sat with me a few moments before going down town. Shortly after my friend came in, looking very much amused.

"I guess I was in the dumps," she said, laughing, "for I've finished; and everything has gone swimmingly since I came in."

LESSONS ON THE SEASIDE.

Custom That Has Grown in Favor at English Resorts.

At most English seaside resorts, says London Tit-Bits, and especially at London, of a fashionable kind, the seashore government for the summer months is an institution that has evidently come to stay, and the winter has seen one instance, that seems to flourish apace, of a regular seashore school, all the pupils sitting around the teacher on the sands.

In most cases a mother who has arrived at a seaside place for the summer months has not hitherto found it convenient or expedient to send her young people to a regular school, for to do so would be to deprive them of their full share of sun, fresh air, and sea-breeze. But at Folkestone and certain other places qualified teachers hit upon the happy idea of taking pupils in the week, and agreeing to instruct these in the open air to such an extent as would at least keep up the knowledge already gained by their pupils. Such a course relieves the mother in more senses than one, and it does not destroy the holiday sense in the child.

In most cases teacher and pupil meet at a given place every morning, and then they troop off to some quiet spot—generally a different one every day—where they in the main engage in the most pleasant kind of lessons, such as reading aloud, holding spelling bees, drawing from a figure on a blackboard or from nature, and so on. In some cases known to the writer, the seashore governess has had a good, strong start provided, and when the morning has been wet the pupils have resorted to this, to the immense relief of their mothers, who well know how temper-troubling it is to have a lot of fidgety young people on hand in hired rooms on a wet day. In the case of the bigger girls, the sense of always having young companions has tended to make the seashore schools the great success they are.

Judging a Man.

You can estimate a man pretty correctly by the men whom he does not know.—N. Y. Herald.

TRYING ON SHOES.

So Fit to Fit First a Problem for the Clerk.

The question of which foot to fit first is an important one to us," said the shoe salesman, as he tugged to get a small pair of Oxford's on a large foot, according to the New Orleans Times-Democrat. "It may seem strange to you, but it is rarely that we do not experience some trouble in fitting one foot while the other is easily covered. A popular belief obtains that the left foot of every person is the hardest to fit, and consequently, many shoe-clerks always try a shoe on that foot first. It is not true, however, according to my observation, that there is any inflexible rule, as to which foot to try first. It is true, nevertheless, that in a majority of cases if you succeed in fitting the left foot you will have no trouble with the right. My practice is to try both feet before I pronounce a pair of shoes a perfect fit. Then I am sure of avoiding any mistake growing out of peculiarities of foot formation. No two people have feet formed exactly alike, and the shoe salesman who thinks so and is governed accordingly, will meet up with many complaints. For some time I pondered over the problem of fitting shoes to feet, and especially as to why the left foot should be considered the standard by which to be governed. The only rational theory I have ever been able to evolve is a very simple one when you come to consider it. Nine out of ten people you meet are right-handed, as we say. About one person in ten, or perhaps the per cent, is even less than that, whose his left hand. If you will observe a person who uses the right hand when he or she is standing and talking, they invariably rest their weight on the left foot. And vice versa, a left handed person will rest his or her weight on the right foot. The result is that with right handed people the left foot is probably a fraction larger than the right foot, and the shoe clerk must inevitably find this to be a fact sooner or later. That, in my opinion, is the explanation of the common belief that the left foot is the standard to go by in the fitting of shoes. But as I have at ready said, there is no rule that is absolutely safe to follow, and my plan is always to fit both feet before I let a customer leave the house."

A HUNDRED YEARS HENCE.

What Americans Will Be Like in the Year 2000 A. D.

What will the American people be like in 100 years?

This question has been answered by Gustave Michaud, a brilliant Frenchman, who has made a special investigation of the subject, says the New York World.

The American of the future declares M. Michaud, will differ from the present day American in a great many respects. He will be—

Darker.

Shorter.

Less enterprising.

More artistic.

More domestic.

Less inventive.

Round headed.

More polite.

A better husband.

A worse citizen.

In an article contributed to the Century M. Michaud undertakes to prove that the American people are being changed in the above respects by the continual flood of immigration.

Fifty years ago, he says, 87 out of every 100 immigrants came from the northwestern countries of Europe—from England, Ireland, Germany, Norway and Sweden.

To day only 35 out of every 100 come from these countries, while the other 65 come from Italy, Russia, Hungary and Greece.

Last year, for instance, the number of Italians landed at the port of New York was 136,455, while the number of births in the Italian quarter of the city was 11,000, or nearly one-seventh of the total number.

Out of 493,380 immigrants who arrived last year 370,700 came from the south of Europe.

On Their Guard.

Some people always greet you correctly by the men whom he does not know.—N. Y. Herald.

—Chicago Journal.

S. H. WINSTEAD MED. CO. Paducah, Ky.

So Tired

It may be from overwork, but the chances are it's from an inactive LIVER.

With a well conducted LIVER one can do mountain labor without fatigue.

It adds a hundred per cent to ones earning capacity.

It can be kept in healthful action by, and only by Tutt's PillsTAKE NO SUBSTITUTE.*Searching for Fortune.

Detectives are said to be searching in the neighborhood of Woodside Park, near New York, for a fortune alleged to have been lost at the time of the Oberlin Carter exposures.

Oil the Machinery.

The most complex and delicate machine is the human body. It will occur to you to get out of order in certain cases—improper irregular food, worry, exposure or overwork. Dr. Caldwell's (Laz-Syrup) Persin is the oil which will prevent friction and complications in the human body. It helps to keep the body in working order; tones up the liver; cures constipation, dyspepsia and sick headache. All druggists sell it.

New Invention.

An engineer of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad company has designed a portable canvas telegraph office that can be carried on a hand car in case of wrecks, washouts, etc.

His Life Saved by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

"B. L. Byer, a well known cooper, of Louisville, Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy saved his life last summer. He had been sick for a month with what the doctors called dysentery, and could get nothing to do him any good. He immediately sent for Dr. Chamberlain's Remedy," says B. T. Little, merchant, Hancock, Md. For sale by C. K. Wyly, druggist.

Found Dead.

Mrs. Margaret May, a wealthy widow, has been found dead in her home in Brooklyn. She had been dead for nearly a month when discovered. Her faithful dog had starved to death by her side.

As a rule a man will feel swell if he can't afford to buy on credit two or three weeks after spending his money, and he will do it usually two or three months before he has fully recovered. This is an unnecessary loss of time, for in many cases in which Chamberlain's Pain Balsam has been promptly and freely applied, a complete cure has been effected in less than one week's time, and in some cases within three days. For sale by C. K. Wyly, druggist.

Patrick Dolan Dead.

Patrick Dolan, said to have originated the "quick lunch," died in New York, where he had operated a "coffee and cake" stand for thirty-five years.

You Know What You Are Taking.

When you take Grove's Tasteful Cold Tonics, the formula is plainly printed on every bottle showing that it is simply Iron and Quinine in a tasteless form. No Cure, No Pay. 50c.

Increase in Wages.

Substantial increases in wages have been granted the telegraph operators and station agents of the Yazoo and Mississippi Valley railroad.

Fifty years ago, he says, 87 out of every 100 immigrants came from the northwestern countries of Europe—from England, Ireland, Germany, Norway and Sweden.

To day only 35 out of every 100 come from these countries, while the other 65 come from Italy, Russia, Hungary and Greece.

Last year, for instance, the number of Italians landed at the port of New York was 136,455, while the number of births in the Italian quarter of the city was 11,000, or nearly one-seventh of the total number.

Out of 493,380 immigrants who arrived last year 370,700 came from the south of Europe.

Killed by Train.

A Vandalia passenger train struck a carriage containing Frank Miller and Miss Kate Kirby, at Glenn crossing four miles east of Terre Haute, Ind., killing both occupants.

LAX-FOS Cures Constipation and all stomachic troubles by removing the cause. —Chicago Journal.

S. H. WINSTEAD MED. CO. Paducah, Ky.

BLIND GIRL AND GOVERNOR.

She Named Dell He Sees Her After His Little Daughter.

Gov. Odell spent two days in New York city visiting state institutions. The governor has made a systematic and painstaking inspection of every state institution within the last year. No single governor, says the New York Tribune, in the history of the state has so thoroughly gone into this work. Based upon this personal observation and study were the bills urged by the governor for reforms in state institutions.

Seated around a table a few evenings ago were the governor and a party of friends. He drifted into a review of this work he has been doing and recounted various incidents that had come under his observation. Some were humorous, some pathetic, and all interesting.

"I was deeply touched," said the governor, "by a little thing which happened at the blind institute at Batavia. I was walking through the building when I noticed a golden-haired girl standing by a window. She ran her back to me. I walked over to where she was standing and said:

"How do you do, my little lady?" I supposed that she was the daughter of some of the officials of the place, as she was the only child I had seen. She turned sightless eyes to me, and then I saw she was blind. She was one of the most beautiful children I have ever seen. She said: 'Are you Gov. Odell?' I replied: 'Yes.' Then she said: 'Oh, I have been waiting to see you. I heard you were coming.' Then I took her up in my lap and said: 'What is your name?' She replied: 'Ruth.' Then I said to her: 'I have a little girl at home just about as big as you, but her name is Estelle.' The little one said to me: 'Do you know, I think I like the name of Estelle better than I do that of Ruth. Don't you?' I had to tell her that I thought Estelle about the prettiest name I knew. Then she told me that she was from Buffalo and was unable to go home for a vacation on account of missing treatment. Finally, when it came time to go, I said: 'Is there any message I can take back to my little girl from you?' 'Yes,' she said, 'you can give her my love.' 'Is that all?' I asked. 'No,' she said, and then threw her arms around my neck and kissed me. 'Say I sent her a kiss.'

"The next day I was in Buffalo," continued the governor, "and I went into a shop and bought the biggest doll I could find and sent it to Ruth. A few days later I got a letter in which she thanked me for the doll, and told me that she could feel its eyes open and shut when she put it to bed at night. She concluded with: 'I have named my daughter Estelle, and I pray God every night that your little girl may never be blind.'

Hatred of Pigs.

A recent traveler in Somaliland gives the following curious incident showing the Mahomedans hatred for pigs: "We shot two wild hogs, one a particularly big boar. Alan wished to keep the tusks, but, of course none of the Somalians would touch the unclean animal. At last a bribe of two rupees induced the Midjan woman to chop the tusks out with a hatchet. Even then she would not touch them and with the help of two sticks, which she used like a pair of tongs, put them on a camel. Then there was a long dispute about the hatchet. No one would touch it; it had been defiled. Of course this was pure affection and playing to the gallery on the ayah's part. At home with her native tribe she would have gorged all the pigs she could get. But it flattered the Somalians and we marched off, the ayah holding the hatchet at arm's length as if it were going to bite her."

A Beacon Light.

The island of Heligoland now possesses a beacon which is the most powerful yet constructed. Instead of the costly Fresnel lenses, which have hitherto been considered indispensable for lighthouses, the German engineers have used parabolic mirrors of glass. A flash of thirty million candle-power is produced, and in clear weather has been visible from the lighthouse on the Bismarck, a distance of 40 miles.

WITHIN REACH

immediate relief from all the suffering caused by aching teeth.

By our system of

PAINLESS DENTISTRY

the offending member can be extracted without inconvenience, but we advise against this if filling or crowning will bring about the same results and save the tooth.

Our methods make dentistry excellent as well as pleasant.

Painless Extracting 25c.

A Good Set of Teeth $5.

Fillings 75c

LOUISVILLE

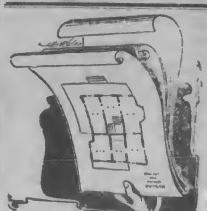

DENTAL PARLORS,

Corner

Court and Main Streets,

HOPKINSVILLE, KY.

Telephone 168-3.

A Handful of Sketches

That I can show you will easily convince the most skeptical that I can do the planning if you will tell me the amount you want to spend and send sketches with measure of individual needs.

You can plan, and plan well perhaps, but you want some one to put it on paper and prepare your specifications. Perhaps I can add to your idea and together make you a better building for less money. It costs nothing to try.

Jas. L. Long,

Architect.

Office in R. C. Building, Main St.

NO. 3856.

Report of the Condition

OF THE

First - National - Bank,

OF HOPKINSVILLE,

In the State of Kentucky, at the close of business Sept. 19, 1903.

RESOURCES.

Loans and Disbursements $162,700.12

Overdrafts, secured and unsecured $17,794.77

U. S. Bonds and Stock Circulation $22,370.00

Stocks, securities, etc. $18,835.90

Due from National Banks not reserved $1,349.00

Due from State Banks and Bankers $12,476.99

Due from approved revenue agents $2,116.47

Due from U. S. Post Office $1,216.20

Notes of other National Banks $1,322.63

Notes of State Banks $4,555.00

Capital and Surplus Fund $284.00

Total $301,363.12

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in $50,000.00

Surplus fund $10,000.00

Unpaid dividends, less expenses and taxes paid in $1,216.47

National Bank notes outstanding $2,116.20

State Bank notes outstanding $1,322.63

Notes of other National Banks $4,555.00

Notes and bills discounted $284.00

Total $301,363.12

STATE OF KENTUCKY: County of Christian.

That this instrument is to the best of my knowledge and belief a true copy of the original instrument.

WALTER E. LONG, N. P.

Corresponding Agent.

G. F. JARRETT, Director.

Lee Edit.

Employment Agency.

I am prepared to find homes for those wanting employment as cooks or house servants. Also to find help for families in need of cooks, waiters, gardeners, etc. and other domestics.

It is my purpose to conduct a first-class employment bureau.

Call on me when you need domestic help or want a home.

Telephone 223-3 rings, or 461 residence.

Reasonable charges.

John O. Chafin.

Hopkinsville Kentuckian.

Published Tuesday and Friday Mornings

CHAS. M. MEACHAM
SUBSCRIPTION $1 A YEAR IN ADVANCE.Local reading notices 20 cents per line.
Special local 5 cents line each insertion.
Business or standing advertisements furnished an application.

OFFICE 212 SOUTH MAIN STREET.

— SEPTEMBER 18, 1903 —

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

Governor—J. C. W. BECKHAM
Lieutenant Governor—W. P. THORNE Auditor—S. W. HAGER
Treasurer—M. BOSWORTH
Attorney General—N. B. HAYES
Secretary of State—J. M. CHENEY
State Park Instruction—J. M. FUJUA, Sr.
C. C. Agriculture—HERBERT VREELAND
Court of Appeals—MORGAN CHINN Railroad Commission—M. D. FERGUSON
Deaf and Dumb—THOMAS C. COOPER
Commonwealth's Attorney—DENNY P. SMITH

The man who originated the quick lunch is dead. Probably he ate his own luncheons.

The Democrats of Maryland have nominated a strong state ticket headed by Edward Warfield for Governor. It was a Gorman convention. The principal plank in the platform is devoted to the race issue.

An organized movement is being made in Iowa in behalf of rubber heels on the shoes of school children, to promote quietude in the school rooms. In Kentucky, some politicians belong to the gum shoe school.

The transport Kilpatrick, bearing the bodies of 300 soldiers who died in the Philippines, arrived at New York this week, by way of the Suez canal. Less than one-fifth died from wounds received in battle.

Jas. K. Vardaman, the next governor of Mississippi, is a country editor. His paper is the Greenwood Commonwealth. Gov. Jelks, of Alabama, and Gov. White, of West Virginia, are also newspaper men.

A London man has invented a certain attachment for an umbrella that affords protection to the whole body of the person holding it in the rain. What is more needed than anything else is an automatic alarm that will call the police whenever any one besides the owner of an umbrella picks it up.

The Livingston county grand jury, upon the strength of the prosecution begun by Sept. 11, V. McChesney, has returned indictments against Editor Young E. Allison and Reporter Geo. W. Riley, of the Louisville Herald, for criminal libel, in alleging that Sept. McChesney had prosecuted his campaign at the State's expense.

It is hard luck for the Republicans that their only representative in Congress from Kentucky has passed away at this time. Vincent Boering was one of the ablest, clearest and most popular men of his party. He managed to keep on good terms with all factions, and with the President. His death will precipitate a contest in a district hopelessly Republican.

The bankers of Kentucky to the number of fifty or more have come and gone and it is to be hoped their stay in Hopkinsville was pleasant, in every way. The association of bankers represents the best business men of the State and the visitors came from all parts of the commonwealth. Hopkinsville feels honored in having had the opportunity.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is no way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing. The tube is entirely closed. Deafness is the result and unless the inflammation is restored to its normal hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous lining.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

F. J. CHENK & Co., Toledo.
Soled by Druggists, 75c.

Hall's Family Pills are the best.

Eczema

How it affects the skin, Itches, comes, dries and heals. Some people call it Tetter, milk crust or scab rash.

It is suffered from it is sometimes intense; local applications are resorted to; but mitigates but cannot cure. It may be congenital, inherited or acquired and persists until these have been removed.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is a powerful tonic, hemostatic, has rapidly and permanently cured the worst cases, and is without an equal for all cutaneous eruptions.

Hood's Pills are the best cathartie. Price, one dollar.

To enter them and it is hoped they may take with them to their homes favorable impressions of our hotel, our banks, our city and our people. Come again, gentlemen, and stay longer next time. We like you.

The modern John Ruskin lives in South Chicago. Paul Bohlander is the gallant self-denying John Ruskin, who set love for his wife above his own desire and aided her in securing a separation because he loved her, that she might marry his dear friend Lawrence Hause. Ruskin was faultless, however, it is said, and the refused to marry Mrs. Bohlander, so the husband beat him in the public street, then disappeared.

Rev. Sam Jones called the postmaster of his home town, Carterville, Ga., a dirty dog in one of his public addresses and the post master engaged him in a fist fight the first time he met him on the street. They were separated after a few blows had been exchanged.

COMMITTEES CALL.

For Ward Conventions to Nominate Candidates For City Council.

At a meeting of the Democratic city committee for the city of Hopkinsville, Kentucky, held on September 14, 1903, said committee consisting of George E. Gary, Larkin T. H. Brasher, Frank Bassett and Punter Wood, Jr., all members being present, the following call was therupon issued:

A mass convention of the Democrats is hereby ordered to be held in the 1st, 2nd, 3rd, 4th, 6th and 7th wards of the city of Hopkinsville, Ky., on the 30th day of October, 1903, at 4:30 o'clock p.m., to nominate Democratic candidates for councilmen in above mentioned ward and that all Democrats residing in each of said wards who will be entitled to vote at the November election, 1903, and the candidate who receives the highest number of votes of each said ward participating in said ward convention shall be declared the nominee for councilmen in their respective wards by the Democratic city committee.

That said ward convention will assemble at the following places to wit:

First ward, City court room.
Second ward, Moayan's hall.
Third ward, Tandy and Stevens' warehouse.

Fourth ward, Wheeler's warehouse, east of railroad.
Fifth ward, Fouks' coal yard.

Seventh ward, Biven's stable.
The chairman and secretary of each ward convention shall certify the result of the convention to the city committee on the day of the holding of the conventions at the city court room on the same day immediately after said conventions.

September 14th, 1903

Geo. E. Gary, Chairman
L. T. Brasher, Sec'y
F. H. Bassett, Hunter Wood, Jr.

Working Overtime.

Eight hour days are ignored by those tireless little workers—Dr. King's New Life Pills. Millions are always at work, night and day, curing indigestion, biliousness, constipation, SICK headache, and all stomach, liver and bowel troubles. Easy, pleasant, safe, sure. Only 25¢ at R. C. Hardwick's drug store.

DWARF IS WEDDED.

Miss Pearl Robinson, Membered ed here, married in New York.

Miss Pearl Robinson, a dwarf, two feet and ten inches high, who visited this city with Ringling Bros., circa three years ago, was married to Arthur Balson, in New York, Tuesday. Balson is an electrician, about six feet high and big in proportion. The bride's mother, who weighs 240 pounds, was one of the witnesses to the ceremony.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

F. J. CHENK & Co., Toledo.

Soled by Druggists, 75c.

Hall's Family Pills are the best.

LUMBERLAND COMPANY

Has Put in a New and Satisfactory Service at Caneyville.

The Caneyville, Ky., Hustler says a new exchange has been put in its town by the Cumberland Telephone company, which it compliments as follows:

"The Cumberland system is now in operation here to the delight of all. There are now twenty-nine subscribers on this exchange, with several more to be added in the near future. Their service has been perfectly satisfactory. The manager spares no effort in rendering prompt and efficient service; for instance, the generator at the exchange here refused to work last Saturday evening about eight o'clock and the night operator at once informed the local manager at Leitchfield: He took the next train for this place, arriving here about nine o'clock, and in a few minutes he had everything working properly. Such promptness and efficiency in service is meeting the approval of all, and many new subscribers will soon be added to this exchange."

INDEPENDENT TELEPHONES.

Tennessee Company Will Again Apply for a Franchise From City.

When the new City Council organizes the bill of the Tennessee Telephone Company, which wishes to establish an independent telephone system in Nashville will be introduced, a 50 year franchise is to be asked, giving the city the right to purchase after twenty-five years. Telephones are proposed to be furnished for $3 a month for business houses and $2.50 a month for residence instruments. Thirty free telephones will be given the city and a reduced rate made on additional ones which may be needed. The city at present uses in the neighborhood of fifty or sixty telephones for the various departments—Nashville American.

INSURANCE COMPANY WON.

Its Defense Was That the Insured Had Committed Suicide.

Cadiz, Ky., Sept. 15.—In the Trigg Circuit Court to-day the jury returned a verdict in favor of the Equitable Life Insurance Company in the case of N. E. Pollard's administrator against the insurance company for the payment of a $2,000 policy which Pollard held on his life at his death in December, 1901. Pollard died from a pistol shot, which the company claimed was fired by his own hand.

There is a similar suit pending for $2,000 against the Masonic Home Life and for $1,000 against the Woodmen of the World.

County Medical Society.
The Christian County Medical Society will meet on Monday morning, the 21st, promptly at 10 o'clock in the office of Dr. B. F. Eager.

A paper will be read by Dr. E. C. Anderson, on Gastritis.

The reorganized society is making rapid progress in membership; and its meetings have been largely attended and very interesting and helpful. It is the earnest desire of the society to enlist all reputable physicians as members "who do not practice or claim to practice sectarian medicine." A large attendance is expected on Monday.

SAUNDERS-MAJORS.

Couple From Pool Get Married in Tennessee.

H. J. Saunders and Miss Katie Majors, of Pool, Ky., were married at the Albion hotel, Springfield, Tenn., Wednesday morning, by Esq. J. I. Holman.

Liver Pills

That's what you need; something to cure your biliousness and give you a good digestion. Ayer's Pills are liver pills. They cure constipation and biliousness. Gently laxative.

Struck Flow of Gas.

Cadiz, Sept. 18.—Greer & Co., a firm of oil men, of Boston, Mass., who began boring for oil last week on the farm of A. H. Grace, two and a half miles north of here, struck a flow of natural gas at a depth of 200 feet.

DR. R. GOLDSTEIN,

The Celebrated Optic Specialist, of Louisville, Ky.

Will have his office at MRS. T. R. HANCOCK'S RESIDENCE from this date until Saturday, September 26. If your eyes are weak or failing from any cause whatever, call on DR. GOLDSTEIN and he will give you relief.

The Doctor is noted the State over for his proficiency in remedying defective eyesight by his superior skill in glasses to the eye. DR. GOLDSTEIN has an established reputation in Kentucky and can furnish glasses adapted to all cases. Fitting children with spectacles a specialty. Parents, do not neglect your children's eyes.

ACTUALLY FITTING

DIFFICULT CASES SOLICITED.

Dr. Goldstein can be consulted at the HANCOCK RESIDENCE, Hopkinsville, Ky. Office hours 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

An Education at a Nominal Cost.

The Southern Normal School and Bowling Green Business College, of Bowling Green, Ky., are two of the greatest schools of their kind in the South. During the year just closed more than 1,000 different boarding students matriculated, more than three hundred of these being in the Business College alone.

The institution is magnificently equipped and the work is thoroughly organized.

Specialists are in charge of the various departments and the instruction is high-class and thorough.

The Normal School operates the schools of Law, Music, Elocution and Oratory, Pedagogy and the Preparatory, County Certificate, State Certificate, Junior Scientific, senior Scientific and Classical Courses. The Business College embraces the departments of Penmanship, Stenography and Typewriting, Telegraphy and Civil Service, and in addition the regular courses in Bookkeeping, Commercial Arithmetic, Sonoretics, etc. The business College does the finest work of any in the South in getting lucrative positions for its graduates. Those interested are cordially invited to send for circulars and catalogue. Address H. H. Cherry, Bowling Green, Ky. Catalogue and Journal free.

SNOW AND RAINCause Enormous Damage to Crops in the Northwest.

Snow and rain has damaged crops in the Northwest during the past week to the extent of millions of dollars. Nearly all the grain is in shock, estimated at 50 per cent, and all the standing grain, much of it flax, is buried under snow and water. Rain and sleet and snow prevail all over the Northwest. Railroad tracks are washed out and trains are abandoned. The trains from the Pacific Coast have been pushing slowly through the deep snow for two days, and are from 10 to 20 hours late.

Two feet of snow covers the ground in parts of North Dakota and "the beautiful" is six inches deep on a level in Yellowstone Park. Farmers throughout the state of Nebraska are attempting to save their crops from the heavy frosts by building fires in the fields.

Struck Flow of Gas.

Cadiz, Sept. 18.—Greer & Co., a firm of oil men, of Boston, Mass., who began boring for oil last week on the farm of A. H. Grace, two and a half miles north of here, struck a flow of natural gas at a depth of 200 feet.

If you don't buy Clothing from J. T. Wall & Co. you don't buy Clothing RIGHT!

The New Fall Styles

Are now ready and a full display WE have.

Hawes Fall Derby

No matter how hard you are to please.

More HAWES $3.00 Stiff Hats are worn than any other make known.

Call and see these beautiful Hats.

J. T. Hawes
ONE PRICE STORE

Kentucky Wheat DrillsNorthern Field Seeds!

Clover! Rye! Timothy!

Orchard Grass! Red Top!

AND

Kentucky - Blue - Grass.

JOHN YOUNG.

SIXTH STREET, HOPKINSVILLE, KY.

New Tin Shop.

Roofing, Guttering, Repairing, Roof Painting, Stove Repairing, Etc.

All - Tin - Work - Guaranteed

For one year. Prices Reasonable. Special Attention given to shop repair work. Estimates on work cheerfully furnished.

PROMPT SERVICE!

HONEST WORK.

L. E. Adwell,
Phone 18 or 49. Virginia St., Between 7th and 8th.

Black Hair

"I have used your Hair Vigor for five years and am greatly pleased with it. It really restores the original color of my hair. It keeps my hair soft."—Mrs. Helen Kilkenny, New Portland, Me.

Ayer's Hair Vigor has been restoring color to gray hair for fifty years, and it never fails to do this work, either.

You can rely upon it for stopping your hair from falling, for keeping your scalp clean, and for making your hair grow.

5 fl. oz. bottle. All druggists.

If your druggist cannot supply you and our one dollar and we will express your name. We will send you a sample of our Hair Vigor, gratis. Address J. C. AYER CO., Lowell, Mass.

Personal Gossip.

Judge J. L. Dagg, of Vidalia, is visiting his mother.

Mrs. Ida Johnson is spending the week in St. Louis.

Mrs. Mary Schutt, of Illinois, is the guest of Mrs. F. P. Renshaw.

Miss Alice Scobey has gone to Mexico to take a course in German and Spanish.

Miss Gladys Bartley is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. M. A. Meacham, near Gracey.

Mrs. Charles Slaughter and family of Greenville, are visiting relatives here.

Mr. G. B. Likens and wife, May Y. Humphries this week, have returned home.

Mrs. J. F. Dagg and Miss Rosalie Dagg, who have been visiting Mrs. Virgil Richards, in Louisville, returned on Monday night.

Tragedy Averted.

"Just in the nick of time our little boy was saved," writes Mrs. W. Watkins of Pleasant City, Ohio. "Pneumonia had played sad havoc with him and a terrible cough set in besides. Doctors treated him, but he grew worse every day. At length we tried Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and our darling was saved. He's now sound and well." Everybody ought to know, it's the only sure cure for coughs, colds and all Lung diseases. Guaranteed by Dr. C. Hardwick, druggist. Price 50¢ and $1. Trill bottles free.

MAJ. OWENS

Will Speak Here for Belknap October 3.

Maj. W. C. Owens, of Louisville, formerly a Democratic congressman from the Sixth district, has an appointment to speak in this city on Saturday, October 3rd. The last time he spoke here it was in support of the Palmer and Buckner ticket. This time he comes as an advocate of the Republican State ticket.

Holland's Opera House

Matinee and Night.

Saturday, Sept. 19th,

Twenty-Eighth Annual Tour

Richard & Pringle's

FAMOUS

Georgia Minstrels.

50-FAMOUS FUNSTERS-50

Crowds Draw Crowds and We Draw the Crowds.

PRICES OF ADMISSION-

Matinee..... 25c and 50c.
Night..... 25c, 50c and 75c.

Balcony reserved exclusively for colored people and seats reserved for 50¢. Seats on sale at Postal Telegraph Office.

Street Parade at 11 a. m. and Grand Free Concert in front of the Opera House at 7 p.m.

BOREING DEAD.

Only Republican Congressman From Kentucky Victim of Pneumonia.

Mountain Leader of His Party Who Represented the Eleventh District.

London, Ky., Sept. 16.—Hon. Vincent Boreing, Representative in Congress from this district, died at a home in this city at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, of pneumonia.

Judge Boreing was born in Washington county, Tennessee, November 24, 1839. At the age of nine years he came with his father, Murray Baring, to this county, and began his education at Laurel Seminary, which institution is still conducted here. At the age of twenty-one he entered the Union Army as a volunteer in Company A, Twenty-fourth Kentucky infantry. He soon rose from the ranks, and was commissioned First Lieutenant. He was severely wounded, from which he suffered until the day of his death.

Judge Boreing first entered politics in 1868, when he was elected County Superintendent of Public Schools. In 1870 he was again a candidate for the office and was re-elected. Soon after he founded the Mountain Echo, of this place, now the oldest weekly Republican paper published in the State. He continued in the newspaper business for about ten years and was then elected County Judge. In 1880 he was elected president of the First National Bank of London, and continued to be president up to his death. He was an active member of the Methodist Episcopal church, and represented the delegate in the General Conference of 1880, held at Cincinnati, Ohio. At the time of this conference he was an ordained minister of the M. E. Church, and since then had preached in various counties of the mountains. He was chosen Department Commander of Kentucky, Grand Army of the Republic, in 1889.

His highest ambition was realized when he was elected a member of Fifty-sixth congress.

He was re-elected to congress in 1900 and 1902, defeating some of the strongest men of his party.

Judge Boreing was twice married, his first union being with Miss Martha Faris, a daughter of one of the county's most prominent families.

To this union five children were born. His second marriage was to Miss Sarah E. Randall, a daughter of the late Judge Randall.

MORE RAISES.

Cumberland Telephone Company's Thrift Methods.

Since the Kentuckian of Tuesday called attention to the raise in the monthly rates reported by Pyle & Smithson, several other subscribers to the Cumberland Telephone Company have reported a similar experience. Among these are Jack Meador, Wiford & Knight, T. D. Armistead and H. C. Ballard. Mr. Ballard gave up his phone rather than stand the raise.

It is known that some councilmen have favored an exclusive franchise, are now willing to let in competition. The council will be asked to take the matter up next week.

MASSAGE TREATMENT.

Dr. Golden, German Specialist, Here for Few Weeks.

Dr. S. Golden, of Nashville, German specialist, is now located in Hopkinsville for a month or so. He is staying at Mrs. Hancock's, corner Seventh and Clay streets. Dr. Golden cures by the massage treatment all kinds of rheumatism and stomach and kidney troubles. Consultation free. He invites a call from the afflicted. Se ha ad in today's Kentucky.

Ice Cream Supper.

There will be an ice cream supper at Sunnyside school house, on the Palmyra road, 2½ miles from town, on Friday night, Sept. 25th. The proceeds are to be used in establishing a library for the school. All are cordially invited to attend.

LOUISVILLE COMING.

American Association Team Will be Here.

Hopkinsville Won Two Games From Jackson-Cairo Captured the Pennant.

The Louisville team, which is a member of the American Association, will play here with the local club Thursday and Friday of next week. The Louisville boys make up one of the best teams in the Association and they made a fight for the championship against St. Paul.

For the past three months the Louisville nine has been playing the fastest ball in the association, and would have won the pennant had it not been for bad luck at the beginning of the season. The same will be the case during the league season, and the Hopkinsville fans will have an opportunity of seeing how our boys compare with the visitors. The Hopkinsville nine will be greatly strengthened by the addition of several new men and the games between the two clubs promises to be the most interesting contest ever witnessed at Athletic park. The visitors could not be secured, except on a large guarantee and all lovers of national sport should turn out and see these games. The admission each day will be 50¢.

The K.-L.-T. league season closed on Wednesday. On that day only two games were played—Hopkinsville and Jackson at Hopkinsville, and Clarksville and Paducah at Clarksville.

Hopkinsville won from Jackson and Paducah from Clarksville. The result of these games did not affect the pennant winner. Cairo heading the list and winning.

Following is the standing of the clubs at the close of the season:

	WON.	LOST.	PCT.
Cairo.....	67	41	.620
Clarksville.....	60	43	.582
Jackson.....	52	51	.505
Henderson.....	48	60	.444
Paducah.....	46	61	.429
Hopkinsville.....	45	62	.420

In the game here Wednesday Hopkinsville won by the score of 11 to 2. The locals made 15 hits and only one error. Bomar and Street composed the battery for Hopkinsville and Wattie and Freeman and O'Cannon made up the Jackson battery. Jackson's first hit was in the first inning by a home run, the ball going over the left field fence, with a man on first. After this the tallies of the Jackie's were all goose eggs. Hopkinsville pummeled Wattie all over the field and when he was taken out of the box there was little change, as the locals continued the good work, and gave the Tennesseeans plenty of exercise in the outfield.

A double-header was played Tuesday, the teams breaking even. In the first Hopkinsville won by the score of 8 to 5, and in the second Jackson was victorious, the score being 5 to 0. Edwards pitched both games for the locals. In the first game only five hits were made off him and he struck out thirteen men. In the second he struck out three more and allowed six hits. Cole, the Jackson pitcher, was pretty fair in the first contest, but in the second (Gaston pitched) and only allowed five hits. Both games were spirited and very interesting throughout. Costly errors by the Hopkinsville team was the cause of the locals losing Monday's game to Jackson. This, too, was a most interesting game and very close, the score being 4 to 2.

Bomar pitched for Hopkinsville. The visitors got eight hits and made only one error. Street, who had been absent in Alabama for several days, returned Monday and caught for Hopkinsville in all of the four games here.

The Paducah Primary

Paducah, Ky., Sept. 15.—The Democratic City Committee last night finished the official canvas of the returns from Thursday's primary, and there are no changes in the result as first announced. M. W. Johnson beats J. H. Smith for City treasurer by five votes. The latter will contest, in order to have some uncounted ballots in the boxes passed on by the committee.

BEAUTIFUL WOMEN WHO USE PE-RU-NA.

DR. S. GOLDEN,

Of Nashville, Tenn.

GERMAN SPECIALIST

Of Old Chronic Diseases.

Cures by Massage Treatment, all kinds Rheumatism, Stiff and Crooked Limbs, Kidney Trouble, Stomach Diseases, Heart Trouble and all kinds of bodily pains.

Prices for treatment moderate. Enlist me to take the case, if you care not pay.

Has been in Nashville for 12 years, is now taking a little vacation, and is now located here a month or two. Call and see him and be convinced that you will be relieved. Will guarantee you get your money's worth.

CONSULTATION FREE.

If you are not able to call on him he will call on you free of charge. Office Hours: 9 to 12, 2 to 6, 7 to 8, at Mrs. Hancock's, corner Seventh and Clay streets.

BERRY-MOORE.

Young Couple Living Near Laytonsville Married Here.

Mr. Walter Berry and Miss Bertha Moore, young people living in the Laytonsville neighborhood, were married in the city Wednesday afternoon. Judge Fowler performed the ceremony.

Seats are now on sale at the Postal Telegraph office.

GEORGIA MINSTRELS

Will Open the Season at the Opera House To-Morrow Night.

ADAMS-BOYD.

Prominent Young Couple Wedded in Clarksville.

Mr. Charles M. Adams, of Church Hill, and Miss Mary Ellen Boyd, of this city, were married in Clarksville, Tenn., Sunday, September 14th, by Judge Q. C. Atkinson. The wedding took place at the Arlington Hotel and the bride and groom returned home the same day.

Mr. Adams is a popular and promising young business man, a son of Mr. J. M. Adams, the merchant. His bride is a daughter of Mrs. Malissa Carr, of 715 North Main street. She is quite a pretty and attractive young lady. For the present Mr. and Mrs. Adams are making their home with the bride's mother.

In comedy the company is especially strong and numbers everybody's favorites—S. H. Dudley, Clarence Powell, Emmett Davis, Bush Campbell and Chas. Scott. The old is made up of J. W. Cooper and his taking figures, Simpson & Pittman, musical artists; Campbell Bros., coon comedy exponents; Kraton, the marvellous hoop controller; Dudley & Kelley, comedy boomers; "Koomaky," in illusions; the No. 3 Tonies, acrobats; Clarence Powell, in a new budget of funny sayings, and Dudley in his latest creation, "Jim Walker at the Policy Shop."

The big parade takes place about noon, in which two big bands furnish the music and at 7 o'clock at night there will be a free concert in front of the opera house by the members of the company.

Seats are now on sale at the Postal Telegraph office.

It Saved His Leg.

P. A. Dauforth, of Lagrange, Ga., suffered for six months with a frightful running sore on his leg; but writes that Bucklin's Arnica Salve wholly cured it in five days. For ulcers, wounds, piles, it's the best salve in the world. Cure guaranteed. Only 25 cents. Sold by R. C. Hardwick, druggist.

DISEASED KIDNEYS

Cause more deaths than bullets. Their symptoms are not alarming, hence they are neglected and quickly become dangerous.

Prickly Ash Bitters

In a kidney medicine of great value; it strengthens the kidneys, allays pain, eases rheumatic and neuralgic pains and arrests the progress of the disease. It is an honest remedy that can be depended on.

AT ALL DRUGISTS,
PRICE, $1.00.

R. C. Hardwick, Agent.

HEALTHY WOMEN

Praise Pe-ru-na as a Cure and Preventative of Catarrhal Disorders.

Miss Elizabeth Uber, No. 67 Bassett street, Albany, N. Y., writes:

"I have always dreaded the fall and winter because of my extreme liability to catch cold, when caught it would often stay with me for weeks, developing through my entire system which it would take weeks to drive away. I am thankful to say that since I have taken Pe-ru-na I have not had the desire to dread this any more. Last fall when I suffered with my old trouble I took Pe-ru-na and in less than a week I was well again. I have been at all exposed to the damp, wet or cold weather, I take a dose or two of Pe-ru-na and it drives the cold and sickness from my system. I gladly endorse it."—Miss Elizabeth Uber.

Mrs. Wm. Dewey, Saranac Lake, N. Y., second cousin of Admiral Dewey, in a recent letter, says:

"Pe-ru-na is the most valuable of any remedy that I have ever used for coughs, colds, etc. I cheerfully recommend it as a certain cure if used according to directions."—Mrs. Wm. Dewey.

Miss Rosa Gerbing, a popular society woman of Crown Point, Ind., writes:

"Last winter I took a long drive in the country, and being too thin, I caught a cold which settled on my lungs, and which I could not seem to shake off. I had heard a great deal of Pe-ru-na for the cure of colds, and I bought a bottle to try. I am pleased that I did for it brought speedy relief. It only took two bottles and I consider this money well spent."

"You have a firm friend in me, and I not only advise its use to my friends, but have given several bottles away to those without the means to buy, and have noticed without exception that it has brought about a speedy cure wherever it has been used."

To neglect a cold is to invite chronic catarrh. As soon as anyone discovers the first symptoms of catching cold he should at once begin the use of Pe-ru-na according to directions on the bottle, and the cold is soon driven away without leaving any bad effects.

When this is done the cold is almost sure to end in the second stage of catarrh which is making so many lives miserable. If Pe-ru-na was taken every time one has a cold or conge chronic catarrh would be practically an unknown disease.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Pe-ru-na, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

MEAT & MALT

The Ideal Tonic and Reconstructor.

There's Life and Strength Every Hour.

A scientific combination of the animal constituents of PRIME BEEF & a PURE OLD MALT.

MEAT & MALT CO., Louisville, Ky.
Gentlemen—Having examined your Meats & Malt preparation, and being thoroughly acquainted, I can make out that it is an efficient nerve and blood tonic, and especially beneficial in nervous convulsions and all diseases of the heart, lungs, kidneys, liver, etc.

L. D. KASTENBINE, M.D.

Louisville College of Pharmacy.

MEAT & MALT CO., Louisville, Ky.

LOW ONE-WAY SETTLERS' RATES

TO THE NORTHWEST AND CALIFORNIA.

From September 15 until November 20, 1903, the Burlington makes very low one-way colonist rates to California, Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana. The reduction is from 25 to 40 per cent. from the regular rates.

THE WAY TO GO.

The Burlington, with its strong main lines and free chair cars, best reaches the West and Northwest via Denver, Billings or St. Paul.

"The Burlington-Northern Pacific Express" is the great daily through train with chair cars, and tourist sleepers via Billings, Montana, to Puget Sound and intermediate points.

TO CALIFORNIA.

The Burlington's weekly personally conducted California excursions in through tourist sleepers are just the thing for coast tourists and settlers. The route is Denver, Sante Fe and Salt Lake.

HOMESEEKER'S EXCURSIONS.

These are run the first and third Tuesday of each month at approximately half rates for the round trip.

It will be a pleasure for us to give you an accurate and informative reply to any inquiries.

O. B. OGLE, L. W. WAKELEY, Trav. Pass'g Agent, Genl. Pass'g Agent,
804 PINE STREET ST. LOUIS, MO.

THE

Mutual Benefit

LIFE

Insurance Co.,

Newark, N. J.

Frederick Frelinghuysen, Pres.

Total paid Policy-holders $200,000,000

Losses paid in Kentucky over $5,000,000.

K. W. SMITH & CO., STATE AGENTS,

506 W. Main St., Louisville, Ky.

Walace & Moore, Agents at Hopkinsville, Ky.

Nothing has ever equalled it.
Nothing can ever surpass it.

Dr. King's New Discovery

For Coughs & Colds

Price 50c a bottle.

A Perfect Remedy for All Throat and Lung Troubles.

Money back if it fails. Trial Bottles free.

John O. Chafin,
UNDERTAKER.

Eighth Street, Bonte Building.

Repairing Furniture, re-seating Cane-bottom Chairs, Packing Furniture for Shipping, Etc.

Poor Man's Friend.

Telephone 222-461.

Madam French's Female Dean's
A safe, reliable relief for Suppressed Menstruation. Never known full satisfaction until now. It is a safe, reliable relief for menorrhagia. Send prepaid for full information. Price 25c. Write me in mail, to the above address. UNITED MEDICAL CO., Posta Box 100, Louisville, Ky.

For Sale by Anderson & Foster.

Professional Cards

Jas. I. Landes. Jas. B. Almonworth
LANDES & ALMONWORTH, Attorneys-at-Law.
Office in McAdams Building, near Court House.
Will practice in all the courts.—Large employ. Special attention to collections.

HENRY E. HOLTON,
ATTORNEY AT LAW.
OFFICE COURT SQUARE
Hopkinsville, Ky.

Douglas Bell,
Attorney-at-Law.
OFFICE IN CITY HALL,
HOPKINSVILLE, KENTUCKY.

HAMPTON FOX,
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
And Teacher of Book-keeping, Shorthand and Typewriting. Guarantees Satisfaction to Industrious pupils. Also assists in securing Industry. Office, North Main St., Yents Building.

C. H. TANDY.
DENTIST.

Office over First National Bank
HOPEVILLE, KY.

DRS. OLDHAM, Osteopathic Physicians.

Graduates under the founder of the science.

Office 211 South Clay St., Consultation and examination. Phone 364.

W. W. GRAY,
Tonsorial Artist.

West Seventh Street, Elb Building.
Clean towels and everything fresh.
Give us a call.

L. & N. TIME TABLE, GOING NORTH.

No. 52—St. Louis Express 9:50 a. m.
No. 54—St. Louis Fast Mail 9:50 p. m.
No. 92—Chi. & St. Lou. Line 5:45 p. m.
No. 56—Hopkinsville Ac. 8:45 p. m.
going south

No. 51—St. Louis Express 8:15 p. m.
No. 53—St. Louis Express 5:40 a. m.
No. 91—Chi. & N. O. Line 11:55 p. m.
No. 56—Hopkinsville Ac. 8:00 p. m.

No. 52 and 4 connect at St. Louis for autumn west.

No. 51 connects at Guthrie for Memphis Line going south as far as Erin and for Louisville and the East.

No. 51 connects at Cincinnati and all points north and east thereof. No. 52 and 4 connects at St. Louis for autumn west.

No. 92 runs through to Chicago and will not carry passengers to Evansville or Nashville.

No. 91, through sleeper to Atlanta, Macon and Albany, Georgia, and to New Orleans. Connects at Guthrie for points East and West. No. 56 of Nashvile, Tenn.

J. C. HOPE, Agt.

vation we must turn to the country house."

Far be it from me to say, however, that there are no "Irish maidens" amongst the members of a fashionable household, with the poor, the frisky girls are glad now and then of the "society" secured to them within the portals of a club friend.
The trouble is, the girls are not charming and delightful women, who, although they enjoy thoroughly the society of their own sex, find it impossible to resist the temptation to flit and flander with a man if he is anywhere within a three-yard radius of their gulling eyes.

When these women join, voluntarily, a club by the laws of which a man is obliged to halt upon the door mat in the entrance hall, and to gaze disconsolately at the sacred staircase which leads to the Parlor, the girls are not to be blamed for their conduct.
But the girls are not the only ones of this type; but the types do not mix; there are Philistines and Bohemians amongst them, as well as the staid and the orderly, and the flighty and frivolous; but all must be novel to them, and interesting, in order to secure the points in which they differ from the one from the other. There is one meeting point, however; they all dress expensively, and the majority dress well.

The "triflers" club would be figured correctly by an auctioneer as a salacious mansion, and its members are numbered by the thousand. It is managed admirably, and, if only the girls, which is served every afternoon in its pretty tea-room, could be had for a few dollars, all would be well.

But, if the girls that cheer are somewhat less than the conversation in the reverse, and the "conveying of a libel in a frown," or "the wrinkling of a reputation down," has been elevated to the fine art of the fine arts, then the girls are not to be blamed.

"The girls reading on of Anthony Hope's dialogues to listen to him said to me one afternoon, in a meeting in the chamber round the tea tables.

One woman in the crowd assured me that my friend would tell me more of her trade I almost knew.

Come on, come on, to Smithson &
And get your Furniture the latest style.
They'll wait your most fastidious taste.
And fill your bills with greatest haste.

Try them once.

The Fashionable Woman's Club and Its Types

What is Seen and Done in One of These Distinctly Feminine Organizations of the Cities.

THE question "Have clubs for women come to stay?" is one ten or 15 years ago, is no longer a subject for debate.
They have justified their existence, and a large number of working women had the power, as well as the will, to disestablish them en masse or one by one, a storm would be raised by his interference.

Women having raised the sweets of club life, which relinquished them readily for us, shall we say—the monotonous sorries of domesticity? The censorious outsider wishes us to believe that a perpetuity of naughtiness attaches to club members, who are, in fact, the most naughty of the kind. Human nature can be to the full as rebellious and unrestrained in the stately mansion or the five-roomed flat, as it ever has been in the reading-room, dining or drawing-room, the "Exhibit," "Exhibitives," "The Taffers," or "Protagonists" circle.

"What nonsense is all this?" says one who looks on from a distance. "It is not notorious that club women neglect their homes, their husbands, and their children."

"Stop a moment, my dear sir or madam.
It is not more notorious still that not one of the society scandals which have come to light recently was begun or fostered in the clubs for ladies?
These institutions are not forcing houses for intrigues; for those adjuncts to culti-and study her clothes. The newest skirts, sleeves and hats are to be seen at ten times to this room. That woman never wears a frock that is more than a week old."

"Is she always alone?" I asked.

"Yes; at first. But she was patiently for the inevitable Him. He is neither ancient nor modern; just a jaunty creature of 60 or 65 years of age, but his present self was one of the first to appear in a new fashionable gown, and then every one had them."

Meantime, whilst my companion chartered volubly, in that loud undertone which becomes habitual to long to people who are not used to it, I was watching a woman who had dropped a costly wrap in a fashion so summary. She was young and very handsome, and she bore, moreover, the indefinable, but unmistakeable stamp of wealth and refinement.
She was the only one of the members of the club who had come to the meeting alone, and when a smart remark from some one near reached her.
My friend had moved away to speak to an acquaintance, and, when she came back, she was laughing. "Such a comical remark," she said, "but the man just came in, and he only her brother, after all, and she and her husband are a model couple."

"I am so glad," I said.

"Are you really?" was the reply. "I think her brother is a man who doesn't look domesticated, somehow."

"I am so glad," I said.

"Are you really?" was the reply. "I
think her brother is a man who doesn't
look domesticated, somehow."

"I am so glad," I said.

"Are you really?" was the reply. "I
think her brother is a man who doesn't
look domesticated, somehow."

"I am so glad," I said.

"Are you really?" was the reply. "I
think her brother is a man who doesn't
look domesticated, somehow."

"I am so glad," I said.

"Are you really?" was the reply. "I
think her brother is a man who doesn't
look domesticated, somehow."

"I am so glad," I said.

"Are you really?" was the reply. "I
think her brother is a man who doesn't
look domesticated, somehow."

"I am so glad," I said.

"Are you really?" was the reply. "I
think her brother is a man who doesn't
look domesticated, somehow."

"I am so glad," I said.

"Are you really?" was the reply. "I
think her brother is a man who doesn't
look domesticated, somehow."

"I am so glad," I said.

"Are you really?" was the reply. "I
think her brother is a man who doesn't
look domesticated, somehow."

"I am so glad," I said.

"Are you really?" was the reply. "I
think her brother is a man who doesn't
look domesticated, somehow."

"I am so glad," I said.

"Are you really?" was the reply. "I
think her brother is a man who doesn't
look domesticated, somehow."

"I am so glad," I said.

"Are you really?" was the reply. "I
think her brother is a man who doesn't
look domesticated, somehow."

"I am so glad," I said.

"Are you really?" was the reply. "I
think her brother is a man who doesn't
look domesticated, somehow."

"I am so glad," I said.

"Are you really?" was the reply. "I
think her brother is a man who doesn't
look domesticated, somehow."

"I am so glad," I said.

"Are you really?" was the reply. "I
think her brother is a man who doesn't
look domesticated, somehow."

"I am so glad," I said.

"Are you really?" was the reply. "I
think her brother is a man who doesn't
look domesticated, somehow."

"I am so glad," I said.

"Are you really?" was the reply. "I
think her brother is a man who doesn't
look domesticated, somehow."

"I am so glad," I said.

"Are you really?" was the reply. "I
think her brother is a man who doesn't
look domesticated, somehow."

"I am so glad," I said.

"Are you really?" was the reply. "I
think her brother is a man who doesn't
look domesticated, somehow."

"I am so glad," I said.

"Are you really?" was the reply. "I
think her brother is a man who doesn't
look domesticated, somehow."

"I am so glad," I said.

"Are you really?" was the reply. "I
think her brother is a man who doesn't
look domesticated, somehow."

"I am so glad," I said.

"Are you really?" was the reply. "I
think her brother is a man who doesn't
look domesticated, somehow."

"I am so glad," I said.

"Are you really?" was the reply. "I
think her brother is a man who doesn't
look domesticated, somehow."

"I am so glad," I said.

"Are you really?" was the reply. "I
think her brother is a man who doesn't
look domesticated, somehow."

"I am so glad," I said.

"Are you really?" was the reply. "I
think her brother is a man who doesn't
look domesticated, somehow."

"I am so glad," I said.

"Are you really?" was the reply. "I
think her brother is a man who doesn't
look domesticated, somehow."

"I am so glad," I said.

"Are you really?" was the reply. "I
think her brother is a man who doesn't
look domesticated, somehow."

"I am so glad," I said.

"Are you really?" was the reply. "I
think her brother is a man who doesn't
look domesticated, somehow."

"I am so glad," I said.

"Are you really?" was the reply. "I
think her brother is a man who doesn't
look domesticated, somehow."

"I am so glad," I said.

"Are you really?" was the reply. "I
think her brother is a man who doesn't
look domesticated, somehow."

"I am so glad," I said.

"Are you really?" was the reply. "I
think her brother is a man who doesn't
look domesticated, somehow."

"I am so glad," I said.

"Are you really?" was the reply. "I
think her brother is a man who doesn't
look domesticated, somehow."

"I am so glad," I said.

"Are you really?" was the reply. "I
think her brother is a man who doesn't
look domesticated, somehow."

"I am so glad," I said.

"Are you really?" was the reply. "I
think her brother is a man who doesn't
look domesticated, somehow."

"I am so glad," I said.

"Are you really?" was the reply. "I
think her brother is a man who doesn't
look domesticated, somehow."

"I am so glad," I said.

"Are you really?" was the reply. "I
think her brother is a man who doesn't
look domesticated, somehow."

"I am so glad," I said.

"Are you really?" was the reply. "I
think her brother is a man who doesn't
look domesticated, somehow."

"I am so glad," I said.

"Are you really?" was the reply. "I
think her brother is a man who doesn't
look domesticated, somehow."

"I am so glad," I said.

"Are you really?" was the reply. "I
think her brother is a man who doesn't
look domesticated, somehow."

"I am so glad," I said.

"Are you really?" was the reply. "I
think her brother is a man who doesn't
look domesticated, somehow."

"I am so glad," I said.

"Are you really?" was the reply. "I
think her brother is a man who doesn't
look domesticated, somehow."

"I am so glad," I said.

"Are you really?" was the reply. "I
think her brother is a man who doesn't
look domesticated, somehow."

"I am so glad," I said.

"Are you really?" was the reply. "I
think her brother is a man who doesn't
look domesticated, somehow."

"I am so glad," I said.

"Are you really?" was the reply. "I
think her brother is a man who doesn't
look domesticated, somehow."

"I am so glad," I said.

"Are you really?" was the reply. "I
think her brother is a man who doesn't
look domesticated, somehow."

"I am so glad," I said.

"Are you really?" was the reply. "I
think her brother is a man who doesn't
look domesticated, somehow."

"I am so glad," I said.

"Are you really?" was the reply. "I
think her brother is a man who doesn't
look domesticated, somehow."

"I am so glad," I said.

"Are you really?" was the reply. "I
think her brother is a man who doesn't
look domesticated, somehow."

"I am so glad," I said.

"Are you really?" was the reply. "I
think her brother is a man who doesn't
look domesticated, somehow."

"I am so glad," I said.

"Are you really?" was the reply. "I
think her brother is a man who doesn't
look domesticated, somehow."

"I am so glad," I said.

"Are you really?" was the reply. "I
think her brother is a man who doesn't
look domesticated, somehow."

"I am so glad," I said.

"Are you really?" was the reply. "I
think her brother is a man who doesn't
look domesticated, somehow."

"I am so glad," I said.

"Are you really?" was the reply. "I
think her brother is a man who doesn't
look domesticated, somehow."

"I am so glad," I said.

"Are you really?" was the reply. "I
think her brother is a man who doesn't
look domesticated, somehow."

"I am so glad," I said.

"Are you really?" was the reply. "I
think her brother is a man who doesn't
look domesticated, somehow."

"I am so glad," I said.

"Are you really?" was the reply. "I
think her brother is a man who doesn't look domesticated, somehow."

</div

Mexican Mustang Liniment is excellent for Rheumatism and all deep-seated pains.

For Sprains and Strains

It is useless to apply a liniment that remains on or near the surface. On the contrary, they require something that goes to work in the body where the trouble is located. That is why—

Mexican Mustang Liniment

In the last thing to use for Sprains and Strains. It penetrates at once to where the injury is, drives out the inflammation and heals the wounded tissues and tendons. Don't be led away in using the liniment until first, to rub it in as thoroughly as the soreness will permit.

Mexican Mustang Liniment

Is a good thing to have on hand when accidents happen.

Planters Bank & Trust Co.,

HOPKINSVILLE, - KENTUCKY.

Capital - - $50,000.00.

JOS. F. GARNETT, Pres. JNO. B. TRICE, Cashier.

General Banking.

Account of Individuals, Firms and Corporations Solicited. Liberal Treatment. Conservative Policy.

Trust Department.

Acts as executor, administrator, guardian and trustee under wills. Seeks desirable loans on real estate and makes investments for individuals.

Safety Deposit Boxes.

Very convenient for the customer. Safe, private and indispensable to the average business public and furnishes an easy security for valuablest to all.

Bank of Hopkinsville.

Capital Stock Paid In. $100,000.00
Surplus $27,000.00

HENRY C. GANT, PRESIDENT.
J.E. MCPHERSON, ASHIER. H.L. MCPHERSON, ASST.-CASHIER.

Accounts of Individuals, Firms and Corporations solicited, promising liberal treatment and every accommodation consistent with consistency with conservative banking. If you contemplate opening an account, or making any change in present relations, would be glad to correspond with you.

Geo. C. Long, Pres. C. F. Jarrett, V.-Pres. Thos. W. Long, Cashier.

First National Bank,

(Corner Ninth and Main Streets.)

Hopkinsville, - Kentucky.

Capital Stock $50,000.00
Surplus and Undivided Profits $17,500.00

BOARD OF DIRECTORS:

DR. T. W. BLAKEY,
JOHN C. COOKSEY,
A. B. CROFT,
J. W. DOWNER,
G. H. DOWNER,
C. F. JARRETT, V.-Pres.
CEO. C. LONG, President.

One of the most modern and best equipped banks in the State. Their Vault and Safe Deposit Boxes constitute a feature.

CHEER UP.

What We Need Is a New School of Jesters.

A contemporary objects to the new profession of "the cheering of woman"—and would probably likewise object to the "cheering of man"—on the ground that the calling won't pay, says the St. Paul Pioneer Press. People in trouble, it says, don't want to be coddled and consoled—don't want any cheerfulness about them. They want somebody to weep with them, to magnify their miseries and to justify their own opinions that they are the most hardly dealt with mortals on earth. Why should a man want to be happy when he has just buried his best friend, seen another friend marry the girl he himself has courted, lost a year's income at poker, bet on the wrong horse, or experienced such a shock as comes to one when a trusted partner drowns with all the funds of the firm?

But, however such a man may desire to be left alone in the contemplation of his sorrows, it is plain that—unless it may be in the way of spiritual discipline—such contemplation "doesn't pay." He has still his place to fill in the world, and anything that will the most speedily enable him to recover from the shock is a desideratum. The king of old, who kept a jester at the elbow to turn every occasion into a source of merriment, were well in their generation. The uncrowned monarchs of America may find an improved substitute for the jester in the "cheering of man." Many a time they can afford to pay him a good fee rather than enter upon a day's business unfitted for work by the megisms. Indeed, so necessary, as a usual thing, is cheerfulness to success, that a man inclined to dolor and misanthropy may often find it profitable to keep a "cheering-up" clerk always in his employ.

A Remarkable Record.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has a remarkable record. It has been in use for over thirty years, during which time many millions of bottles have been sold and used. It has long been the standard and main reliance in the treatment of cough in thousands of homes yet during all this time no case has ever been reported to the manufacturers in which it failed to effect a cure. When given as soon as the child begins to have a cold, or even as soon as the crosey cough appears, it will prevent the attack. It is pleasant to take, many children like it. It contains no opium or other harmful substance and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. For sale by C. K. Wyly, druggist.

Strike Settled.

The strike of the Longshoremen at New Orleans has been settled, the longshoremen agreeing to waive the demand that eight men be put in a hatch, and they were all put to work on the eighteen ships waiting for a cargo.

To Cure a Cold in One Day

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. E. W. Grove's signature is on each box 25c.

Will Enter the Race.

Former Governor McMillin, of Tennessee, has made a statement of his intention to enter the race for the United States Senate.

No need to fear sudden attacks of cholera infantum, dysentery, diarrhea, summer complaint of any sort if you have Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry in the medicine chest.

Mrs. Flynn Missing.

Mrs. Austin Flynn, of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., who sailed from England for the United States with a fortune, is missing and is believed to have been murdered.

Conspiracy Exists.

Chicago grocers have made the discovery that a gigantic conspiracy exists among some of their employees and a number of the retail grocers of the city to defraud them.

LAX-FOS

For the Kidney's Liver and Stomach.

AT GRANDMA'S.

The cookies that my grandma baked were under lock and key. But just a little word of "please" was open season. And grandma's smile was sunshine to a little girl like me. My grandma had a picnic fence around her garden. (With lots of sweet flowers that use long bees had found.) When a cool wind that got our feet wet way at the trees in front of grandma's house had roots that stayed right out. To make us homes for paper dolls, while And fairies danced at night times there, I'm sure without a doubt.

I could have one single wish come true. I wish to just be little and that we could move away. And live in grandma's house with her forever and a day.

—Edith Roberts, in Good House-keeping.

THE KNOT IN THE PEARLS.

BY L. PARRY TRUCCOTT.

She was young and remarkably pretty, with prettiness that is quite unmistakable and generally acknowledged that can even triumph over a frock that is not quite fresh or a style of hairdressing that is not altogether suitable. But she had a very much enchanting look, so bright and sunny, partly that he told himself (fashionably dressing), which would have reduced her head to the level of a repetition of all the other heads in the room, would have been a mistake, a piece of vandalism. And us for the dress, that was, at any rate, simple although of the kind that is not expensive (or even particularly tasteful), and he managed to overlook it. Yet that was something of a feat—to his credit or not, as you looked at the matter—for he had the reputation of being one of the most fastidious men in London. Moreover, the child—she was only a girl, though—had almost entirely no conversation.

But then here eyes were dazzlingly blue, and their gaze had a rapt and heaven searching quality that was unique even in his wide experience. If she could with any fluency say tongue of men or angels (just excepting her hesitating: "Yes," "Oh, no," and such non-committal trifles), if she was poor at small talk, she was greaty accomplished at looking. From the first the glances of her wide-open, innocent eyes, straying sometimes to his face, the contemplation of her eyes, seemed to bewitch him, to allure him, and harder still, to hold him in attentive captivity at her side.

And she was 18 and badly dressed, while he owned to 35, and was well known as an accomplished man of the most sensitive and most exquisite taste.

The woman wasn't born, his friends had been in the habit of saying, who could curiously adapt to his standard of perfection; among themselves they had often pictured her, the neatest thing possible, the woman he would surrender to, and she was cultured and witty, delicately sympathetic, daintily beautiful, and certainly beautifully dressed to the last detail. And it must be admitted that he had always pictured her to himself.

But while he was a man of ideals, he was also a man of great recognized talents, and his world set him up as a shining light, a man to be quoted and followed and generally upheld, al though that is not saying of them that they set him above laughter, or, at any rate, smiles. For it is pleasant to smile at an exceptionally talented or fortunate man; it is a recompence and even a relief to those less distinguished and without being maligned, though there were many such—quite ordinary and unashamed as he lingered, every time they met, at the side of the girl with the heaven searching eyes absorb him, while they looked on in an attitude distinctly suggestive of hand-clapping.

"After all," they said, "so after all, the usual thing arrives him!" Of course, she's sweetly pretty, and he'll choose her frogs." They didn't feel any less pleasure in their idol, because, at last, they had discovered his feet of clay; they were indeed, enthusiastically inclined to applaud their newer and more homely view of him, add they let the girl with the heaven searching eyes absorb him, while they looked on in an attitude distinctly suggestive of hand-clapping.

"After all," they would chorus, and some one would inevitably add: "Well, he'll know how to spend the money!" Yet it was common knowledge that he was not overburdened with money, having been apparently too overburdened with brains to acquire it in quantity.

And all the time he was with her he thought only of her eyes and his own power to waylay them from Heaven. But when he was not with her, many of his thoughts circled round the cheap row of flowers he invariably wore, and his mind attuned to great subjects took to itself a holiday and spent it in wondering why she tied a knot in them.

Was it of set design, or did she knotted? There had come into his mind, the first time he saw her, an old saying, long forgotten, that a girl knots her pearls when she wants a love letter. Now, did this girl of the innocent eyes in this manner deliberately advise him a knot? And was it simply a love letter she wanted, or, say, a first edition? (he said a first edition.) Or was it not, perhaps, a letter from a particular person she had set her heart on? Some one who might see the touching little indication of readiness to receive a tenderly worded epistle; some one who, it was hoped, would be eager to comply. Although this last possibility undoubtedly put the girl in the better light, it is noteworthy that it was not the idea honestly favored.

He followed the little story further. For if the knot was the result of anything more than the merest accident, or other than a clumsy device for keeping the row tightly around her tight throat, then, since as far as he knew, the knot was never untied, also, as far as he knew, she did not get her letters. The blue eyes were sometimes pathetic; in time it grew to hurting him that she should even possibly want what he could easily have supplied. The whole question, as childish as she was and as strangely engrossing, haunted and disturbed his leisure, and one night, having just tied her, he sat down and wrote her letter.

The bulk of the talents for which people praised him were in the habit of emerging from the point of his pen, and the letter was a mark of his reputation without being at all above her power of appreciation—even supposing she was in all things as young as she looked. It was simple, in fact, as her speech, and as beautiful, after its fashion, as her eyes; and, reading it over, he knew he had never done anything better. But he wasn't as mad as he might have looked—if anyone could have seen him—and he only posted it in his pocket. Having been written to her, it was, as surely hers, and to have it about him gave him a feeling of pleasure he acknowledged with a laugh, and for once did not try to account for it in words.

After that he wrote her a letter every time he saw her, and, but that something happened about the sixth time, it is a matter to wonder at how far he would have allowed his pockets to bulge.

What occurred was of the most commonplace description. In hunting for something else, he dropped one of the letters at her feet. She caught it up with a little cry. "Why, it's addressed to me!" If he had not stopped her she would have opened it there and then.

But he couldn't prevent her keeping it, nor prevent himself seeing the laugh in her eyes—a stray gleam that seemed to cast a new light on the pathways to heaven.

"If you like it," he said, "there are more;" and he took out the pack, turning it over.

"But if they are mine I would much rather have them at once!" she cried. "If they are mine you have no right to keep them!"

To tempt her into pleading for them, into more laughter, into quite a torrent of teasing and excited speech, he held out as long as he could. In the end she went off with her letters.

"I'm convinced it's some rubbish," she threw at him in parting; "and I do want to see just how silly you are!"

"Will you tell me how silly you think me?" he asked.

"If you're silly—enough," said she.

Of course he expected an answer—expected it feverishly, filled with a boisterous impatience and unrest he had never surpassed in his boyhood. When it came, it was like her, he told himself, and it was certainly put in few words, if that was really like her, and his doubts on that subject were brand new ones. "Will you come and see me?" she wrote, naming an hour. Of course he went—praying that the that should see her alone.

And she was alone; so far, he quickly saw the realization of his wish. Yet, for the moment, as he advanced toward her up the long room he hardly knew her—hardly recognized her unformed figure, the child of the dowdy frocks, in the perfectly dressed girl now waiting for him with laughter and blushes chasing each other.

"Your letters are charming," she said. She put a hand to the imitation pearls, side by side with some that looked priceless, among the lace at her neck and twisted them round to show him they were unknotted.

"Your letters are charming," she repeated with the least little break in her voice. Then she brightened and smiled. "And what do you think of my frock?" "I think it is charming," he said.

She came nearer to him.

"Will you answer me something?" she asked.

"Yes—yes—anything?"

"Only this—which sort of frock do you like me in best?"

"This," he said, true to his creed. "This—I suppose. Oh, my darling, we are starting at the wrong end, but if you keep the letters we shan't be able to afford such frocks."

"I wouldn't give up the letters for anything," she declared.

"I go with the letters," he said.

Again the laugh in her eyes. "And I'd rather give up the letters than you," she smiled.

"Then hang the frocks," he cried, and would have caught her to him, but she warded him off.

"Stop, do stop!" then she blushed—"for a—Stop, won't you, please? The don't you know, really? Don't you truly know?"

"What?"

"That I've more frocks and more money to buy new ones that I know what to do with, and—

"Do you mean to tell me—"

"Let me tell you. I mean, I had the childish idea—I see now how childish it was—to try and pass myself off in your society as a poor American girl, for a change. And it was a failure; right as I looked, it was a failure, with just one exception. You are the exception, and until now, I have never felt quite, quite sure that even you could be excepted." Into her eyes crept their pathetic look.

"My dearest," he cried, "just for your sweet self I loved you! On my honor, I did not know, and I loved you because I could not help it."

This time she did not ward him off.

"No woman wants to be loved for any other reason," she said, "and I shan't mind the money and things any more."

"And the knot in the pearls?" he asked, later.

"I knotted them at first because it seemed, somehow, in keeping with the stupid sort of girl I was. But when I noticed how you always stared at them, I kept them knotted to—"

"Well, why?"

"To keep you—staring!" she laughed.

"And did you never find out—"

"Oh!" she interrupted. "I asked just every one why a knot in a row of pearls should make a wise man—any man—stare so. I was always asking, until some one told me about the old saying of the love-letter, and then—"

"And then?"

"And then—" She still hesitated.

"By then—" he amended.

"Oh, I'd like to finish," she said, bravely. "By then I was so anxious for company I couldn't wait. You see, she almost whispered, "my heart was caught in the knot, and it wouldn't let me until you helped me."—London Sketch.

Reciprocity.

A woman shows her love for a man when she gives him all she possesses; sometimes the man never shows up again.—N.Y. Herald.

How Is Your Roof?

Have You Examined Your Roof and Guttering to see what shape they are in for Fall and Winter rains?

We do Tin Work, Galvanized Iron Work, Roofing, Guttering, Cornice Work,

Tank Work, and Guarantee it to be the best. You should not put off work of this kind, as it may result in damage to your property.

See our Large Stock of Stoves, Ranges, Tin, Granite, Glass, China and Woodenware.

Geo. W. Young,

No. 107 Main St.

Phone 185-3.

Hopkinsville, Ky.

OPTICAL SPECIALIST.

Dr. R. Goldstein, of Louisville, Now in the City.

Attention is called to the advertisement of Dr. R. Goldstein, of Louisville, which appears in this issue of THE KENTUCKIAN. Dr. Goldstein is a celebrated optic specialist, with twenty-five years experience, and is noted for his proficiency in remedying defective eyesight.

He is now at Mrs. T. R. Hancock's residence, East Seventh street, where he will remain until Saturday, September 26.

Kenton Club Incorporated.

The Kenton Club will be incorporated, articles having been filed for an incorporation extending over a period of 94 years. The papers are signed by J. A. Young, Jr., President; G. D. Shaw, Vice-President; J. E. McKee, Secretary and Treasurer; A. S. Gant and J. D. Russell, Jr., members.

40-Guns-40

No Two Alike.

Every gun absolutely as good as new. I had the good luck to purchase at a very low figure, a large lot of Sample Guns, at prices that will enable me to sell them at wholesale prices, and at the same time make a fair profit for myself. I can positively save you from $3.00 to $6.00 on a gun and propose to give my friends the benefit. If you are in the market come at once before they are all gone. TERMS CASH.

Very Respectfully,

JACK MEADOR,
No. 8 Main Street,
Thompson Block,
Hopkinsville, - Kentucky.

S. G. BUCKNER, WALTER KNIGHT, Planters Insurance Agt., Lawyer.

Buckner & Co.

Real Estate Agents.
Buy and Sell City and Farm Property.

OFFICE NO. 5 N. MAIN ST.

MRS. J. M. CAMPBELL, Agent.
General Insurance.

Fire, Life, Accident and Founds.
Office Over Planters Bank & Trust Co.
Hopkinsville, - Kentucky.

CARRY NATION

Lectures to a Great Crowd at the Tabernacle.

Kansas Crusader Talks Vigorously and Entertainingly For Prohibition.

More than 2,500 people turned out at the Tabernacle Tuesday night on short notice, to hear Mrs. Carry A. Nation—as she now signs her name—discourse of her crusading methods to put down saloons.

Mrs. Nation had been in the city for two days, the guest of her uncle, Esq. Alex. Campbell. There was of course much curiosity to see the woman who came into public notice from smashing saloons in Kansas with a hatchet and who has, as she stated, been in jail nineteen times for smashing saloons.

She is a stout old lady, with a motherly appearance and wears glasses. She wore a white dress, plainly made and she appeared to be entirely at ease on the platform. She first took up a collection for the benefit of the Tabernacle, while the audience sang a hymn.

She was introduced by Judge W. P. Winfield and her lecture occupied an hour or more.

She began by telling who and what she was and spoke of the misrepresentations that had hampered her work. Said she had brought suit to suppress Halstead's "Life of McKinley" because it misrepresented her. She said she did not expect to smash all of the saloons in Kansas, but wanted to smash enough of them to attract national attention to her work for prohibition.

She said Kansas was a prohibition State and the saloons she attacked were still in violation of the law, were nuisances that she or any one else had a legal right to abate.

She soundly abused the officials who permitted these open violations. She denounced both of the leading parties, and urged that the hope of the country was in the Prohibition party. She said there was no difference between the Democratic and Republican parties except that one was out and the other was in.

She discussed temperance and the evils of intemperance, saying that whisky filled the jails, almshouses and asylums.

She justified her crusade against saloons by saying that she was directed by the Lord on June 5, 1940, to go to Kiowa, Kan., and break up the saloons there. She went at once and took with her a number of stones in her buggy. She said she asked the Lord for another sign and the horse she was driving trotted past a gate it was accustomed to going in without even turning his head that way.

She went to Kiowa and broke out the windows and otherwise demolished three saloons. Her first rock crashed through a large oil painting of a nude woman, that was in the finest saloon. She denounced the immoral pictures that were often to be found in saloons.

She was arrested, but as soon as she was released resumed her attack.

At the close of her lecture she sold many souvenir hatchet pins. She said she had already established homes for the wives and children of drunkards at two places where the funds were raised by selling hatchets. A great many people bought the souvenirs.

Mrs. Nation left on the night train for Bay City, Mich.

Twenty Years' Extension.

The corporate existence of the First National bank at Princeton has been extended until September 15, 1923.

DR. FENNER'S

KIDNEY and Backache

CURE

All diseases of Kidney, Bladder, Urinary Organs, also Rheumatism, Backache, Sciatica, Neuralgia, Dropsey, Female Troubles.

Don't become discouraged. There is a cure for you. If necessary write for free information concerning just such cases as yours. All consultations free. Send a few bottles of Dr. Fenner's Kidney and Backache Cure I promise a gratified patient. Write and get full information. Write to Dr. Fenner, Fredericksburg, Va.

Drugists, 50c. Ask for Cook Book—Free Cure Circular, Dr. Fenner, Fredericksburg, Va.

ST. VITUS DANCE

sure Cure Circular, Dr. Fenner, Fredericksburg, Va.

JUST A LOOK

Through our Carriage Repository will convince you of three important facts, essential that every buyer of a vehicle should be acquainted with:

FIRST,

That We Have An Attractive Line.

SECOND,

We have a Very Great Variety from which to select.

THIRD,

We buy for Cash and can sell Cheaper on that 'count.

In addition to all this, we are handling makes of vehicles that we have dealt in for years and know their merit. Come and look carefully through our stock, upstairs and down, and it will end in our selling you just what you want.

Forbes M'f'g. Co.